INTRODUCTION.

THE following pages, giving a brief epitome of the contents of the Directory and of the uses to which they may be applied, are intended for the convenience of persons who, not being in the daily habit of using the volume, are not thoroughly acquainted with its varied contents.

The area comprised within the Directory approaches an irregular rectangle, extending from the western boundaries of Kensington and Chelsea in the west, to Bow, Blackwall, and Cubitt Town in the east, being a distance of about nine and a half miles, and from Highbury and Holloway in the north, to Kennington, Walworth, and Deptford in the south, being a distance of about six miles.

For any places beyond these limits reference should be made to the London Suburban Directory, which extends from the limits of the London Directory to the extremity of an irregular circle with a radius of about ten miles from the General Post Office, being the district originally covered by the Postal districts, but which have since been reduced, or to the Directories of the several Counties which adjoin the London district. Small Directories of various suburban districts are also now being published at 1*s.* 6*d. each; for list of these, see page facing the commencement of the 'Conveyance,' page* 2568.

As frequent applications are made by persons residing beyond the limits for the insertion of their names, such names can be inserted in the Trades at 5s. per line of 30 letters, and in the Court at 2s. 6d. for an entry consisting of any number of lines.

1. The primary object in consulting a Directory is generally to ascertain the address of a person of whom the name only is known; if the person sought be in any trade or profession his address should be sought by turning to the COMMERCIAL DIRECTORY, pp. 717 to 1450 inclusive; the names here are entered in strictly alphabetical order, with the exception that, among entries commencing with the same Surname, the firms are placed first, next the names of public or trading companies and public buildings, and then the names of single persons; thus, of the name "London," commencing at p. 1121, the first is the firm of "London Elkan & Phillip," then follow seven columns of companies, or what may be termed impersonal entries, and then the names of individual traders named "London," beginning with "London Arthur James." Two persons, each having the same Christian and Surname, are arranged alphabetically according to their trade, thus, at p. 1320 "Smith Edward Henry, boot & shoe maker," precedes "Smith Edward Henry, corn merchant"; had their trades been the same, a similar priority would be given according to the initial of their residences; thus, there being at p. 1324 two William Smiths, bakers, they are arranged according to the initial of their respective residences.

2. If the person whose address is sought is a junior partner in a firm, the name of which cannot be recollected, the name of the firm with which he is connected may be found, thus: if "Edward Jones, tea broker," be sought for, at p. 1074 will be found the entry "Jones Edward, tea broker, see Beach & Jones," showing him to be a partner in the firm of Beach & Jones, and by referring to p. 761 the entry "Beach & Jones, tea brokers," with their address will be found; no separate entries are usually made of the names of the senior partners, as such entries are unnecessary, nor is more than one entry made for the junior partners when there are several of the same surname, nor are entries made of persons whose names do not appear in the name or style of the firm; where, however, persons wish for entries of either of these descriptions, they are made at the usual charge of two shillings and sixpence per line for extra insertions in the Commercial portion.

3. If the person whose name is sought is not in trade, but occupies a private house, his address may generally be found in the COURT DIRECTORY, pp. 2213 to 2426; the names in this division are arranged in alphabetical order, but persons having any title or rank precede others of the same name; the country residences of most persons whose names are entered in the Court are also given: prefixed to this division, at p. 2213, is a table of the abbreviations usually appended as distinctions to the names.

4. If the person sought hold an appointment in any government or law office, his name will be found in the alphabetical portion of the OFFICIAL DIRECTORY, pp. 3 to 138, with a reference not only to the office, but to the department in which he is employed; and the same may be verified, and the precise position in each office ascertained, by turning to the other portion of the Official Directory, pp. 77 to 121, where the establishment of each office is given in order: in this division will be found the Chief Officers of State, Her Majesty's Household, lists of the Privy Council, Lords-Lieutenant of Counties, Her Majesty's Ministers and Consular Agents abroad, and the Consular Agents in England of every foreign State, the Establishments of the Bank of England and of the Metropolitan Board of Works.

5. CHARGES FOR ENTRIES IN COMMERCIAL. No charge is made for the entry, not exceeding one line, of the name of any person occupying a house of sufficient importance, or of the SOLE OCCUPANT of any office or chambers; but if the entry exceeds one line, the excess not arising from the length of the name of the firm, or of the address, a charge will be made for the excess above one line; also where more than one individual or company are required to be entered in respect of one office, or when foreign, colonial, or provincial firms require to be entered as carrying on business at an office occupied by an agent, not being in their employ, or acting solely for them, such entries are charged. When it is found that persons not occupying an office have entered into an arrangement with a householder to have letters taken in, and the name inserted in the Directory in consideration of a payment, such entries are refused altogether.

These charges are made solely with the view of preventing the Directory, already of large dimensions, being unduly extended by the entry of unnecessary names.

6. A fashion has sprung up for one or more individuals, not being registered Companies, to trade under some fanciful title, as when "William Smith," instead of having his name entered as "boot & shoe maker," requires to be entered as the "Brixton Benevolent Boot & Shoe Supply Association," or "John Brown," instead of calling himself "dealer in wines & spirits," wishes to be entered as "The West End Wholesale & Retail Association for the Supply of Genuine Wines & Spirits." These entries not only unnecessarily occupy space, but cause much trouble in preventing mistakes between two of similar name. In all such cases the whole entry is charged for, but the person always has the option of having his real name entered free. The charges are 2s. 6d. per line in the Commercial, and 5s. per line in the Trades Directory.

7. The STREET DIRECTORY, pp. 145 to 715, contains the principal streets in London, with a selection of the inhabitants, whether in business or not, at their respective houses, with the terminals of each street, and the intersection of other streets marked; besides the more obvious uses of this portion, it may be pointed out that it serves occasionally to recall the name of a person which has escaped the memory, but whose residence is recollected—to assist in deciphering illegible signatures—in doing which a difficulty is frequently felt, as all advertisers and persons having occasion to receive correspondence from the public at large constantly experience. By means of the marked intersections a person is enabled to find any obscure part of London; for instance, any one requiring Parker-street, by turning to that name at p. 541, will find it referred to as at 17 & 18 Little Queen-street; turning to Little Queen-street, at p. 456, he finds it described as at No. 221 High Holborn, and he has consequently to walk along High Holborn until he comes to No. 221, then to turn down Little Queen-street to No. 17, where he will find Parker-street. It is also useful in showing in what part of a street a particular number is; for instance, any one coming into London by an omnibus along Piccadilly, and wanting No. 327 Oxford-street, might be in doubt whether to get down at Park-lane or Regent-circus; on referring to Oxford-street in the Directory, at p. 534, before starting, it will be seen that No. 327 is within a door of New Bond-street, and that Bond-street, consequently, would be the place at which to alight.

8. The streets are all arranged alphabetically, and in the way in which they are usually mentioned, without any inversion; thus "Lower Thames-street" is under "L"; a place which forms a portion of a main road as "Edwardes-terrace, Kensington-road," is placed under the road at letter K, but to which there will be found a reference under "E," at p. 312, "Edwardes-terrace, Kensington, see Kensington-road"; there is also an index to this portion of the Directory at pp. 139 to 144, referring to the page at which every street or place not arranged in strictly alphabetical order, and every public building or chambers, under which names are given in the streets, such as Coal Exchange or Hyde Park Mansions, are to be found.

9. CHARGES FOR ENTRIES IN THE STREET DIRECTORY. The Street Directory is intended principally to show who occupies the houses and offices in each street with a short description of one trade only; all entries occupying unnecessarily more than one line and entries for foreign, colonial or provincial firms who require to be entered at an office occupied by an agent, are charged for at the rate of five shillings per line; references to other premises occupied by same firm cannot be introduced into this part of the Directory.

Besides the ordinary alterations arising from deaths, changes of residences, &c., many sweeping changes are continually being made in this division, to correspond with alterations in the names and numberings of streets by authority of the Metropolitan Board of Works. During the present year (1888) 24 streets have been re-named and the same number have been re-numbered, including Grosvenor square, and 57 names of new streets have been introduced.

Every street or place which is within, or partly within the City of London, is distinguished by having the words "CITY," or "partly within the CITY," prefixed in the Street Directory.

10. The Directory necessarily only contains a selected portion of the occupiers of houses in the metropolis; the names are selected with great care, by experienced agents, but the publishers cannot undertake in any case to give any reason or explanation why a particular name has not been included.

11. The TRADES AND PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY, pp. 1451 to 2099, contains the names of persons in trades or professions arranged under their respective trades or professions; to prevent unnecessary repetitions, where two trades are usually carried on by the same persons, the names are not repeated under each trade, but a mark is appended to the name of the person, denoting that he also carries on the other trade; thus, the trades of Coal and Corn Merchants being frequently carried on by the same person, under the "Coal Merchants" there is the note, "Marked thus * are Corn Merchants," and under "Corn Merchants" the note, "Marked thus † are Coal Merchants," and in each case there is the reference, See also Coal or Corn Merchants, as the case may be, shewing that for a complete list of either trade the marked names are to be taken from the other list; by this expedient much useless repetition is avoided: still, if any persons consider it of importance to their business that their names should appear under each trade named in the Commercial entry or under any additional trades not named in the Commercial entry, they can be inserted at a charge of five shillings per line. Where any public body is immediately connected with any trade or profession, it is placed at the head of that list; thus, the Royal College of Surgeons is placed at the head of the list of Surgeons, p. 2013: where, in any profession, it has been considered desirable to point out those who are members of any particular body, this has been done; under the head of Brokers—Stock, by the kindness of the Committee of the Stock Exchange, is given, at p. 1542, a complete list of the members of the Stock Exchange, as well those who only transact business in the House as those who have offices; separate lists are also given of those Brokers and Dealers in Stocks and Shares who are not members of the Stock Exchange; in the list of Architects, p. 1475, those who being members of the Royal Institute of British Architects are in practice as architects; in that of Surveyors, p. 2019, those who belong to the Institute of Surveyors; and in the list of Accountants, p. 1452, the officers of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales are given, and the names of those who are fellows and associates are marked. Such new trades as appear to be necessary are added to this list every year, as fashion, science, or necessity calls them into existence; out of the 166 added this year we may select the following as examples:—

Air Compressors; Antiseptic Preparations; Antitannic Infuser; Automatic Delivery Machine makers; Bell (Tubular) manufacturers; Blowing & Exhaust Fans; Box Nailing Machine manufacturers; Caffeine manufacturer; Chloral Hydrate manufacturers; Cocoa Wine; Confectioners' Jewellery; Cork Drawing Machine makers; Emery Stone Mine proprietors; Farola manufacturers; Fireproof Lathing manufacturers; Gold Quartz Crushing, Pulverizing & Separating Machinery; Graphite; Organina Thibouville; Petroleum Engine Makers; Pine Wool Underclothing; Steam Separators; Switchback Railways; Vapour Cones & Wood Wool manufacturers.

In this division has been inserted a list of the Bailiffs certified to levy distress for rent under the Distress Amendment Act, 1888; this will be found at p. 1490.

12. CHARGES FOR ENTRIES IN TRADES.—In order to limit as much as possible the continual increase in the size of the book, the number of trades in which any firm can be entered without payment is limited to five trades mentioned in the Commercial entry, and not represented by marks as above, but entries can be made in additional trades if paid for at the rate of five shillings per line for each entry.

13. SPECIAL TRADE HEADINGS.—Persons wishing to have a new Trade Heading made under which theirs will, in the first instance, be the only name, can (in most cases) have such trade heading made on payment of ten shillings for each line of such heading, which they will be required to pay annually as long as theirs is the only name under it, and for one other year if theirs is one of the only two under this heading; afterwards the trade becomes an ordinary heading as long as two names appear under it; persons wishing to be entered under a special heading, in which one name only appears, will be charged the same sum for the heading as is paid for the first entry, for one year only, afterwards the heading becomes free as long as two names appear under it.

14. The LAW DIRECTORY, pp. 2101 to 2212, contains much that is useful to the professional man only, and much that is equally important to the general public; it has lists of the judges and official staff of THE SUPREME COURT OF JUDICATURE, the Bankruptcy Court, the County Courts, and the exact district belonging to each; similar information as to Police Courts and the Police Force; the Inns of Court, with the Benchers; complete lists of Counsel (distinguishing conveyancers and equity draftsmen), special pleader and notaries. There is also a list of Solicitors, distinguishing those who are commissioners of the Supreme Court of Judicature and those who are perpetual commissioners for taking acknowledgments by married women; solicitors and assistant solicitors to public departments, foreign and colonial commissioners, shorthand writers, parliamentary agents, law booksellers and stationers, and other subsidiary lists; in this Division will be found a list of the Petty Sessional Divisions within the Metropolis and the immediate Suburbs.

15. The PARLIAMENTARY DIRECTORY, pp. 2427 to 2463, contains a list of all Peers of the United Kingdom, arranged first, in order of dignity, with the date of their creation, as copied from the Parliamentary rolls, with the courtesy titles of the eldest sons; next the members of the House of Peers, in one general alphabetical arrangement, with their residences and clubs, including in this list the Life Peers under The Appellate Jurisdiction Acts, 1876; Irish and Scotch representative peers; peers who are minors; peeresses in their own right; a list of the surnames of peers, with the corresponding title, and a list of the titles of eldest sons of peers; the members of the House of Commons, in alphabetical order, with the places for which they sit, and their residences and clubs, and a list of places returning members, arranged alphabetically, with the members representing them given under each.

16. The POSTAL DIRECTORY, pp. 2465 to 2496, contains all necessary information connected with the transmission of letters, newspapers, books and parcels, by post, also as to money orders and postal orders, corrected annually by high officers of the Post Office, expressly for this work.

17. In the CITY, CLERICAL AND PAROCHIAL DIRECTORY is given a large amount of miscellaneous information; complete lists of Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Common Councilmen, and other members and officers of the Corporation of London and City Companies; a list of the Parish Churches of the entire metropolis, with their incumbents and officiating ministers and vestry and parish clerks; ecclesiastical parish and district churches and chapels; places of worship of other denominations, with the hours of divine service at each church and chapel, and (p. 2532) of all the beneficed clergymen, curates and officiating ministers of every denomination in the metropolis included in one general alphabetical list; the metropolitan poor law unions with the officials; the general assessment sessions; the metropolitan asylum districts; and the district surveyors under the Metropolitan Building Act; a list of periodicals and London newspapers, and lists of Foreign, Colonial and Provincial Daily Papers (pp. 2555 to 2567).

18. The CONVEYANCE DIRECTORY (pp. 2569 to 2665) contains a list of inns, wharfs, coaches and booking offices, and of railway carriers, with their receiving houses; a list of the principal towns, villages and railway stations throughout England, with the means of reaching them by railway; some of the leading hotels at the principal towns have been given to enable travellers to make appointments; and to most places mentioned in the population returns has been added the number of inhabitants, from the census for 1881. In this division are included Rates of Porterage and Cartage, and the Acts relating to Hackney Carriages; to this we have been able, by the courtesy of the Commissioners of Police, to add a list of crossing points, being places where the four mile circle, described from King Charles' statue at Charing Cross, as determined by the police authorities, intersects the several roads mentioned (p. 2643). For the convenience of traders dispatching many parcels, this portion of the Directory may be had separately for use in the packing room, price 4*s*.

19. The BANKING DIRECTORY (pp. 2673 to 2768) contains a list of the London Bankers who are registered at Somerset House; of Foreign and Colonial Bankers in London; of Country Bankers issuing their own notes; non-issuing Private Bankers and Joint Stock Banks of the United Kingdom; and of the Provincial and of many Colonial and Foreign Bankers, with the banks they draw on in London.

20. At the commencement of the work are lists of Commercial Stamp Duties, of the Chambers of Commerce in England, of Chambers of Agriculture, of Trade Protection Associations, an Almanac and a copious Table of Contents.

21. A very complete Map is prefixed, which is annually corrected with great care; the Map is divided into squares, to each of which reference is made by letters at the top and bottom of the Map and figures at the sides, similar to degrees of latitude and longitude in ordinary maps; and corresponding figures appended to each Street in the Street Directory enable any place to be found on the Map without difficulty; thus, Abbey Gardens is distinguished by F, 6, and will be found on the Map on the square at the intersection of F and 6: these squares will be useful for calculating the distances if it be remembered that each side of a square is exactly half a mile and the diagonals of each square if drawn would be 1244 yards, or within 80 yards of three-fourths of a mile—the exact three-fourths of a mile being 1320 yards. The Map, to obviate the liability to its being torn in opening, is now printed on linen. This Map may be had separately, either mounted on rollers, colored and varnished, or in case, with index, price 10s.; also in plain sheet form, 3s. 6d.

22. The Proprietors regret that it has been so frequently necessary to take proceedings to defend their property in this and other similar works, and think it right to again give notice that every part of this work is copyright; that if the same be infringed, immediate application will be made to the proper division.

23. The London Directory is published annually, about the second week in December, and may be had in the following forms:—Complete Edition, 40s.; Small Edition, 18s., contains the Official, Commercial, Court, Parliamentary, Postal, and Banking; Commercial only, 12s.; Trades, 12s.; Streets, 12s.; Court, 5s.; Banking, 3s.; Conveyance, 4s. A Second Edition of the Complete work only is usually brought out in the Spring.

24. Persons wishing to send circulars for Christmas having frequently asked for early unbound copies, it has now been arranged that Advance Sheets of the Directory will be supplied as printed on payment of 5 guineas for the copy.

25. Persons who prefer the Directory bound in two volumes, or in leather binding, can be furnished with it at a small extra cost.

26. Corrections to appear throughout the work should be received by the first of October, and for the Commercial portion by the 20th of that month.

27. Persons who have occasion to write to the publishers to announce changes of residence or other matter for their own convenience, and who desire to have the receipt of their communications acknowledged, should enclose a STAMPED AND DIRECTED ENVELOPE OR A POST CARD. The necessity of this will be seen when it is considered that the letters received during October and November average 200 per day. To prevent the mischief which might be occasioned by fictitious corrections made by unauthorised persons, no communication involving any alteration in the Directory is acted on until the contents have been verified by personal enquiry at the house to which it relates, made by one of the agents for the work.

28. TOO LATE NAMES.—All information received too late for the respective portions of the Directory is given at page xxvi., under the heading of Too Late Names.

RUSSIA:—English travellers proceeding to Russia should, to save themselves inconvenience, procure the visa of the Russian Consulate General in London to their passports, delivered by the Foreign Office or the Lord Provosts of Scotland. The necessity for this will be the more apparent when it is recollected that the subordinate officials in Russia do not, as a rule, understand English, whilst everywhere, even in the remotest parts of the empire, the visa and seal of the Russian Consul-General is immediately recognised. The bearer of a Foreign office or Lord Provost's passport need not attend personally to obtain the visa. The passport, which must bear the signature of the bearer, may be forwarded to the consulate per registered letter, enclosing the visa fee of 2s. in postage stamps or otherwise. Passports transmitted from the country (or environs of London) should be posted three clear days previously to the visa being required. The letter must contain a fully directed stamped envelope, to cover the passport when re-posted. Passports torn & illegible, and those more than say five years old, should be exchanged for new ones. To prevent delay foreigners naturalised in England must produce or send their letters of naturalisation on leaving or transmitting their passports. Foreigners, not naturalised in England, must procure the visa of their respective consuls before transmitting their passports to the Russian Consulate for the indispensable endorsement. Hours 10 to 3. Saturdays 10 till 2—Russian Consulate, 17 Great Winchester street EC. The British public and foreigners who reside in England are informed that, in consequence of dispositions made by the Russian Government on the 17th April, 1874, every letter, request, proposition, &c. made in writing, must be accompanied by two Russian inland marks of 80 kopecks each, total 160 kopecks, in order that the letter, request, or circular, &c. &c. may be received and taken into consideration by the Administration or judicial authorities in Russia

FOREIGN OFFICE REGULATIONS RESPECTING PASSPORTS.

1. Applications for Foreign Office passports must be made in writing, and enclosed in a cover addressed to "The Chief Clerk, Foreign Office, London," with the word "PASSPORT" conspicuously written on the cover.

2. The charge on the issue of a passport, whatever number of persons may be named in it, is two shillings; if the applicant reside in the country, and if it is desired that the passport should be sent by post, that sum must be forwarded with the application for the passport by a Postal order, or by a Post Office order, made payable at the Post Office, Charing cross, London, to the Chief Clerk of the Foreign Office, Sir Francis B. Alston, K.C.M.G. Postage stamps will not be received in payment.

3. Foreign Office passports are granted only to British-born subjects, or to such foreigners as have become naturalised either by Act of Parliament or by a certificate of naturalisation granted by the Secretary of State for the Home Department. When the party is a "Naturalised British subject," he will be so designated in his passport; and if his certificate of naturalisation be dated subsequently to the 24th of August, 1850, and previously to the 1st of August, 1858, his passport will be marked as good for one year only; or should the certificate be dated subsequently to the 1st of August, 1858, his passport will in that case be marked as good for six months only, except in cases where a licence for a longer period of residence abroad has been granted by the Secretary of State for the Home Department; but this regulation will not preclude any person whom it affects from obtaining at the Foreign Office, at any future time, on his producing his old passport, a fresh passport in exchange for it for a further limited period, without being required to pay a fresh charge. A Foreign Office passport granted to a British-born subject or to a "Naturalised British subject" who has been naturalised by Act of Parliament, or whose certificate of naturalisation is dated previously to the 24th of August, 1850, is not limited in point of time, but is available for any time, or for any number of journeys to the Continent. Aliens naturalised as British subjects under the "Naturalisation Act, 1870" (33 Vic. c. 14) will also receive passports unlimited in point of time, but subject to the qualification mentioned in the 7th clause of the Act.

4. Passports are granted to all persons either known to the Secretary of State, or recommended to him by some person who is known to him; or upon the application of any banking firm established in London, or in any part of the United Kingdom; or upon the production of a certificate of identity (See subjoined form), signed by any mayor, magistrate, justice of the peace, minister of religion, physician, surgeon, solicitor, or notary, resident in the United Kingdom; in certain cases the applicant's certificate of birth must be produced.

5. If the applicant for a passport be a naturalised British subject, his certificate of naturalisation, with his signature subscribed to the oath printed on it, must be forwarded to the Foreign Office with the certificate of identity granted on his behalf; and his certificate of naturalisation will be returned with the passport to the person who may have granted the certificate of identity, in order that he may cause such naturalised British subject to sign the passport in his presence. The agents at the outports are not authorised to grant passports to naturalised British subjects, and such persons, if resident in London or in the suburbs, must apply personally for their passports at the Foreign Office.

6. Passports are issued at the Foreign Office, between the hours of 11 and 4, on the day following that on which the application for the passport has been received at the Foreign Office, except on Sundays and public holidays, when the Passport Office is closed.

7. A passport cannot be issued by the Foreign Office, or by an agent at an outport, on behalf of a person already abroad; such person, being a British-born subject, should apply for one to the nearest British Mission or Consulate. A passport cannot be issued abroad to a naturalised British subject, unless naturalised under the Act of 1870, except for a direct journey to England, or in the case of a Colonial naturalised subject for a journey to the United Kingdom or to the Colony where he has been naturalised. Neither can a passport granted at the Foreign Office to a naturalised British subject for a limited period be renewed by Her Majesty's diplomatic or consular agents in foreign countries, but only at the Foreign Office.

8. The bearer of every passport granted by the Foreign Office should sign his passport as soon as he receives it, without such signature, either the visa may be refused, or the validity of the passport questioned abroad. Travellers who may have any intention of visiting the Russian Empire or the Turkish Dominions at any time in the course of their travels must not quit England without having had their passports visés at the Russian Consulate in London, 17 Great Winchester street, City E C; or at the Consulate-General of the Sublime Porte, 7 Union court, Old Broad street respectively. Persons proposing to enter Germany by way of France should also have their passports visés at the German Embassy, 9 Carlton House terrace S.W. Travellers about to proceed to any other country need not obtain the visa of the diplomatic or consular agents of such country, resident in the United Kingdom, except as an additional precaution.

N.B. Although British subjects are now free to enter Belgium, France, Holland, Italy, Denmark, Sweden & Norway without passports, and the rules about passports have been virtually relaxed in other countries, nevertheless, British subjects about to visit the Continent are recommended not to omit to provide themselves with passports, for even in those countries where they are no longer obligatory they are found to be convenient, as offering a ready means of identification, and more particularly when letters have to be claimed at a poste restante. For residence in certain districts of Germany or Switzerland a passport is indispensable.

It is further recommended as a reasonable precaution that persons holding passports of old date should either exchange them for fresh passports on payment of the usual fee of 2s., or should have their old passports visés, before starting on a journey, by the diplomatic or consular authorities of the countries they propose to visit.

MODEL FORM of Certificate of Identity, to be written out on a separate sheet, and signed by the person giving it, as also by the person in whose behalf it is granted.
